Mobile app for AXIS Audio Manager

No need to find a microphone console or handset while an event unfolds

In a warehouse a shift supervisor can, on the spot, get important information out.

Construction foreman wants to warn the workers on the jobsite about a safety concern.

As activity or ambient noise levels change during the day, in for instance a store, you can adjust the volume so it's always at the right level.

Open a line for two-way audio with the Axis speaker in the backoffice. Talk directly to the people you're trying to reach – and get a confirmation back.

Extend the capabilities of your audio management software

AXIS Audio Manager Edge is used in combination with AXIS Audio Manager Center for coordination across multiple sites and usage of AXIS Audio Manager mobile app. Once the app has been installed and an administrator has configured permissions in AXIS Audio Manager Center, users can access one or many audio zones from their phone – whether they're on the opposite side of the building, at a sister site, or somewhere else entirely. With no need to go to a microphone console to make announcements or open a line for two-way audio, users can take advantage of more convenient and efficient communication.

AXIS Audio Manager mobile app is the perfect companion for AXIS Audio Manager Center Premium. Certain features are also available for the standard version of AXIS Audio Manager Center – see table for more information about feature availability.
